House concurrent resolution No. 32:

Whereas, The State of Texas is justly proud of its position among the commonwealths of the Union, standing first in extent of territory, possessing unbounded natural resources, boasting pre-eminence in cotton, corn and cattle, guarding a magnificent public school endowment, enjoying most liberal homestead and exemption laws, protecting labor and inviting capital, and aspiring to agricultural, commercial and political supremacy in the great Southwest; and

Whereas, It is estimated that by the close of this decade and century, Texas will have reached a population of five millions of people;

Resolved by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That in order to advertise our manifold advantages to the world and celebrate our own material progress and prosperity, the Governor of the State is hereby authorized to appoint a commission to consist of seven members, to consider, devise and report to the next Legislature a plan for holding a State jubilee in the year 1900, celebrating a population of five million people in Texas.

Resolution read.

Senator Smith moved to refer the resolution to Committee on State Affairs. Referred.

On motion of Senator Dean, Senate adjourned till tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.
